

Fee Schedule Nibor information

Valid as of 1st January 2018

Nibor information includes Nibor fixing values and their underlying indicative deposit rates provided by the Nibor panel banks. Nibor information is available for the following durations: 1 week, 1 month, 2 months, 3 months and 6 months.

Definitions

Real Time Information: Information that has been delayed by less than 5 hours from the time the information was first transmitted to the market. Real Time Information is subject to end-user fees and can only be distributed in closed and controlled user environments.

Delayed Information: Information that has been delayed by more than 5 hours and less than 24 hours from the time the information was first transmitted to the market.

Historical Information: Information that has been delayed by more than 24 hours from the time the information was first transmitted to the market. Distribution and use of Historical Information is free of charge.

Fees

All fees exclude Value Added Tax.

Distribution license fees
External distribution <sup>1)</sup>	Right to external distribution of Real Time Information and Delayed Information.	NOK 42,000 per year
Internal distribution	Right to internal distribution and use of Real Time Information and Delayed Information.	NOK 28,000 per year
Display data fees
Fee applies per end-user with access to Real Time Information in a display terminal. The Distributor is required to report the number of users on a monthly basis.		NOK 68 per month

1) The license for External distribution includes the license for Internal distribution

The Norwegian Interbank Offered Rate (Nibor) is owned and administered by Norske Finansielle Referanser AS (NoRe) and calculated and distributed by Oslo Børs. For distribution and/or use of Nibor information, please contact sales@oslobors.no.